

FIGURE B.8.1 A pair of cross-coupled NOR gates can store an internal value. The value stored on the output Q is recycled by inverting it to obtain  $\bar{Q}$  and then inverting  $\bar{Q}$  to obtain Q. If either R or S is asserted, Q will be deasserted and vice versa.